Self-Service Kiosk

Incorporating fast service with secure payment

Systopia's Self-Service Kiosk can be customized to suit your business needs and themed to match your brand.

The touchscreen intuitive graphical interface helps the customer select the items they wish to order, suggests additional/upsell items and gives precise product information to ensure a seamless purchase experience.

With built-in payment services of your choice, transactions are both quick and secure, minimizing wait times and delivering a superior guest service experience.

"The introduction of self-service kiosks has created a 20% increase in average sale amount compared to transactions with the traditional Point of Sale. The kiosk invites customers to purchase more items without feeling the pressure of the people in line behind them."

Speed and convenience

During peak times when the front of the serving area becomes crowded, the Kiosk represents an effective selection and ordering alternative.

The captivating graphics are designed to emotionally engage the end user with the foodservices brand. The user interface is presented as an easy to navigate website, offering menus and asking questions to invite the purchase of additional items such as coffee, snacks, etc.

Customized for your business

Include self-ordering in your food and beverage environment; choose your preferred payment methods; and gain valuable business insight through reporting of sales across your foodservice operation.
